ADVANCING ASIA.

THE ALIEN AT THE AUSTRALIAN GATES.

Like sentinels around Australia's shores stand the islands of the South Seas. They are the natural outposts of this great continent, and what is transpiring there cannot be a matter of indifference to the Commonwealth. In the old days of sailing ships they were a long way off, and of seemingly small importance; but in these days of rapid transit the most distant of them may be reached in a week. We may, if we choose, like the ostrich, bide from our vision the coming danger, but it comes nevertheless. Advancing events are plainly casting their shadows upon us, but to all appearance we see them not, or, if we see them, we do not sufficiently appreciate their importance to inquire into their significance.

Twice during the past fortnight the fact of the dying out of the native population of the south seas has been brought in these columns before the public mind. Once in a cablegram from London, in which it was stated that the British Government regarded the matter as a very complex one, and the whole import of the message is that the Home authorities are puzzled as to what is best to be done. The second warning came in statements from certain visitors from the South Seas, who declared that the supply of local native labour was not sufficient to meet the increasing demands of the rapid growth there of commercial enterprise. Yet from neither of these sources does there come any light as to the best means to be adopted in order to save these primitive people from extinction, and thereby save Australia from the growing pressure of Asiatic populations close to our doors. Both Germany and France have no concern for our welfare in regard to this, and it is to be expected that sooner or later—perhaps sooner than we think—Samoa, German New Guinea and the German portion of the Solomon Islands will carry a large population of Javaneses or of Chinese. Neither can we expect the French in New Caledonia, and in the New Hebrides, to sympathize with Australia should they feel in those places the need for cheap labour. But Fiji, British New Guinea, and part of the Solomon Islands are under the Commonwealth and Imperial control, and in these places the decreasing native population should be the subject of very careful inquiry, with a view to get at the causes of the decrease, in order to save them if possible. The fact that there are in Fiji 35,000 Indians, and that their numbers are being augmented by thousands every year, that in Samoa there are 430 Chinese; and that European residents in other islands are looking to both India and China for a sufficient supply of labour, is enough in itself to warrant the Commonwealth Government in, at least, watching very carefully the trend of events in regard to the crowding of Asia into these islands. Asia a few years ago was a far country; Asia in a few more years will be at our very doors; and with the coming of Asia will also come political and social problems of a serious kind, and which this Commonwealth will not be able to ignore.

Now, the only way to keep Asiatics out of these islands is to preserve in them the native population. Can this be done? At the root of much of the indifference on the part of Europeans in regard to the question lies the conviction that the natives are doomed by their very incapacity to pass away; that the presence of the white man inevitably means the extinction of the black man. The Australian native is often quoted in this connection as an example because of this conviction, little or nothing is done to help the people. The pressure of a worldwide struggle for existence is suddenly thrust upon children; and as rapidly as the children died in the old days of child labour in England, so these die, and they pass out of sight while the white man utters a few words of contemptuous pity. Are they really incapable, or are they simply being neglected by those who ought to care for them? Basil Thomson, in that excellent book of his, "The Fijians," says of our dealings with these races generally:—"We saunter into their country and annex it; we break down their customs, but do not compel them to adopt ours. . . . And then we leave them like a ship with a broken tiller, free to go whither the winds of fancy drive them, and it is not surprising that they prefer the more easy vice of civilisation to its more difficult virtues." As to mental inferiority, the same thoughtful writer says:—"It is, in fact, doubtful whether there is any race of marked mental inferiority, though, as among ourselves, there are thick-witted individuals, and these may be more common in one race than in another. Certainly there is no race that suffers mental injury from teaching."

When we begin to inquire as to what has been and is being done for the proper education of these people whom we have undertaken to govern, the fact emerges that our efforts in this direction amount to, in most places, nothing. Our "masterly inactivity" in this respect has left the people without aim or ambition in life. Having neither means nor knowledge wherewith to take and hold a manly place under the new conditions of life, they have lost confidence in themselves, and therefore do not appear as capable men to the eyes of the whites. Until recently the Government in Fiji did not interest itself in the education of the Fijians, and it is open to question as to whether its present costly efforts and plans are just on the right lines. In British New Guinea nothing is being done by the Commonwealth Government for the completion of that education which is being imparted by the missionaries. In the Solomon Islands it is the same. All the educational work done in these places is being left to the missionary societies. All credit is due to these societies for their good work but they are not able to do all that is necessary.

It is certainly the duty of any Government to govern to the highest interests of the governed. Hitherto we have taken all we could get from the South Sea Islanders and beyond policing their countries, the value of which good work is not to be lightly esteemed, we have done nothing. What is needed is an educational scheme for these people based upon careful inquiry as to their needs. But to stand idly by while a race dies out, when the existence of that race is of importance to the island as well as to this Commonwealth, is, to say the least, very unwise on our part. To continue this attitude of indifference means that these interesting and capable peoples must give place to other races which will have behind them powerful Asiatic Governments, and which by their very presence will give rise to international problems from which Australia has hitherto been happily free.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

FIRST DIVISION.

Both matches played in this division on Saturday afternoon proved to be well contested; that played at Kowloon produced a draw and the one played over this side was a win for the Gunners. The Gunners, accordingly, win the "Cup" and are four points ahead of the winner of last year. We understand the presentation will be made at the Y.M.C.A. on the 24th inst.

R.G.A. vs. BUFFS.
This match was played on the Military Ground, before hundreds of spectators; the teams lined up as follows:—

R.G.A.:—Beasley (Goal), Oxley and West (Backs), Walker, Lt. Baggaill and Hewitt (Halfbacks), Crump, Ansell, Watts, Nash and Bellis (Forwards).
Buff's:—Black (Goal), Ruler and Cloke (Backs), Dare, Wren and Cooper (Halfbacks), Fitzpatrick, Hockham, Taylor, Brewster and Barker (Forwards).

The Buffs won the toss and defended the further end goal. The R.G.A. opened the game and not long after the Buffs got possession of the ball and took it to the former's territory. Brewster opened the shooting for them which went too wide. Wren then had a good try which Beasley saved. The Gunners now made a rush down, but Cloke was too quick for them, and gave a corner. This was well placed and the leather was pretty dangerously near the Buffs' goal, but was soon put out of it by Cloke. At this stage the game was quick and fast with pretty play on both sides. Soon Ruler got the ball and gave a powerful kick which burst the bladder in the air, when another ball had to be put in. On the replay the Buffs' forwards made a rush up and the leather was passed to Barker, who had a stinging shot which Beasley reached out in full length and saved with the expense of a corner and landed on the ground at the end. Immediately after this Hockham had a go which was again saved by Beasley almost in the same way. The Artillery then took the leather in hand and Lt. Baggaill took charge of it and passed it nicely to Nash who rushed up and put the "stinger" which Black cleared. The Buffs now tried hard to score but with no result when the whistle sounded for half time.

In the second half play was very fast and the leather was travelling up and down in good speed. Again in this half Lt. Baggaill tried his luck in passing the ball to Nash, who took it up and put same in a resting place between the posts. On resuming play the Buffs adopted different tactics altogether, attacking the Gunners' goal time after time, but Beasley took them with a smile, and no doubt he is the right man in the right place. Lt. Baggaill again took possession of the leather and passed it to Nash who sent it to Bellis on the left wing. He put in a lucky shot, making the Gunners two up five minutes before time. The Buffs tried many a time to score but luck was against them. Thus the game ended in a win for the R.G.A. by 2 goals to nil.

K.F.C. vs. H.K.F.C.

This match took place on the Kowloon side and the teams were:—

K.F.C.:—Foulkes (Goal), Van Ginkel and Lapsley (Backs), Blackburn, Clements and Wilkie (Halfbacks), Hedley, Morris, P. Wilkie, Stubbs and Mead (Forwards).
H.K.F.C.:—J. Clarke (Goal), E. F. Aucott and J. McCubbin (Backs), H. Kilby, R. C. Barlow and W. Ironside (Halfbacks), A. Aitchison, H. L. O. Garrett, A. Hamilton, J. D. Danby and A. Whitmarsh (Forwards).

This match was a very even one and both teams played well, although the Hongkongites should have scored on a few occasions. The whistle went for half-time with the game standing at nil all.

In the second half play was also even, Whitmarsh scoring the first goal for the Club and soon after this Brown equalized on a penalty kick. Both teams now tried for a win, but "nothing doing" although the Hongkongites had a beautiful chance, on a penalty which was awarded to them. This was taken by Barlow who shot too wide. The game ended in a draw one all.

SECOND DIVISION.

H.O.C. vs. 88th CO. R.G.A.
This match resulted in an easy win for the Gunners by five goals to nil. Both teams played at the start with a few short. As the game progressed the men came in one after another. The Boys played with as many as six reserves; some played with shoes and ordinary costumes. They went down, with the intention of witnessing a good match, but instead they were asked to take the field.

H.O.C. vs. M.R.C.
This was a very even game and in the first half no goals were scored. The second half was much more interesting, the Lusitanos put in two goals which were soon after equalized. Another one was then added, making them one ahead. They now played anyhow and kicked anywhere, and gave the Moslems an opportunity to equalize, which they did in the nick of time. The game ended in a draw: 3 all. The Lusitanos were too confident of a win and did not play up to their mark.

THE BRITISH AND CHINESE CORPORATION.

As we know, Mr. J. O. P. Bland has left the British and Chinese Corporation, which for eleven years has had an intimate acquaintance with the official mind in China. Probably there are not another half-dozen Britons who have been so closely associated with Chinese financial men as Mr. Bland, but it is astonishing to find that no mention of his leaving the Corporation is made in the speech of the Chairman to the shareholders on the occasion of the latest annual meeting. Why was that? most readers will inquire. The probability is that Mr. Bland is not definitely a representative of the firm to-day. As a matter of fact it is on the table that he is to obtain preference in the appointment of Peking correspondent of the Times—but that is a debatable question, which time will answer. After the laudation which Mr. Bland received last year at the London meeting, however, it was to be expected that something would have been said about his services now that he is going from the Corporation which he has served so well. Perhaps the report of the speech by the chairman Mr. W. Kewick, M.P., is curtailed in this instance, and we will wait for the official story. As it is the chairman's remarks would make one think that the concern had been doing badly last year, but after all a ten per cent. dividend is something worth having. We may be pardoned in quoting the fact that the report states that the profits for the year ending June 30, 1909, amount to £14,345, which, added to £9,873 brought forward, makes £24,219. The directors recommended a dividend of 10s. per share (10 per cent.), to be paid on 27th inst., free of income tax, leaving £17,719 to be carried forward. The Corporation are interested in proposals which have been on foot for a considerable period for financing the construction of two important projected Chinese railways. After protracted negotiations, and when it was believed that all difficulties had been accommodated, a demand for participation in the business arose in an unexpected quarter. Negotiations connected with this claim have suspended the completion of the business and necessitated a re-arrangement of interests, concerning which it is hoped an understanding may be reached before long. Of course that is a polite way of saying that American financiers intervened. And the chairman was equally diplomatic in his references to the cause of delay in the Chinese negotiations. "Last year," as he said, he remarked that after recapitulating the various Chinese railway loan contracts with which the Corporation had dealt during the ten years of its existence, he had observed that the immediate prospects of new business were not so favourable as could be desired, thus warning the shareholders that the result of the year which was now under review was unlikely to be equal to that of its predecessor. "That no new business had been concluded" was not in consequence of any lack of constant effort; and at one time after long and patient negotiations, the immediate issue seemed assured of an Imperial Loan, under British-Franco-German auspices, for the Hankow-Canton and Hankow-Szechuen Railways. The contract for the loan had been initiated, and was about to receive the Imperial ratification, when another great Power demanded participation; and this claim necessitated a re-arrangement of interests, concerning which negotiations are proceeding. Making allowance for the absence of new business, the financial result of the year may be regarded with equanimity, inasmuch as in revenue from interest on investments, commissions, and such like ordinary sources of income, we have received a sum sufficient to pay expenses and a good rate of interest on our capital. Mr. Kewick continued:—"The financial position of the Corporation as exhibited in the balance-sheet is at any rate highly satisfactory, as we possess liquid assets to practically double the amount of our paid-up capital. This position, while giving the Corporation a measure of independence, does not render the board any the less anxious to secure business, but the political state of affairs in China does not help matters for the time being. There is a virtual, if not actual, revolt of the provincial authorities against the financial policy of the Central Government. This revolt, which is accompanied by a large amount of anti-foreign sentiment and characterised by impracticable aspirations, is obstructive rather than constructive, and it may be some time before the Chinese settle down to face seriously the many and great problems before them. When they do grapple with the situation in a practical manner, they cannot fail to realise that if railway and industrial enterprise is to be adequately developed and national requirements met, it will be necessary to encourage and avail of foreign co-operation of an active character. The provincial authorities profess objection to any foreign loan for provincial securities, while the Central Government is willing to enter into contracts on a purely financial basis. The limit of finance on the latter footing would be easily reached; but were the lenders accorded a share in results and a voice in the management of ventures they are invited to finance, experience shows that capital would be readily forthcoming; and it may reasonably be supposed that in time the Chinese will recognise that foreign co-operation can be utilised not only without any loss of national dignity, but with an immense advantage in the development of their country and its latent wealth. For instance, the door of mining enterprise is at present half closed by unworkable rules and regulations; and even in cases where a concession has been obtained by a foreigner the official tendency has been to discourage and retard development. Indeed, the Corporation itself has in some degree suffered thereby. I think, however, reflecting Chinese are beginning to realise that broader views would be advantageous to their country."

PRINCE KUNG, the Anti-Opium Commissioner, has given orders to all the provinces, directing the plantation of tobacco on all ground on which hitherto poppy has been grown.

The Government of Korea has redeemed the arrears and interest upon the loan obtained by Korea from China while the former country was under the protection of the Chinese Government.

St. Stephen's College.

THE NEW WING.

INAUGURAL CEREMONY THIS AFTERNOON.

St. Stephen's College in Canton Road was this afternoon the scene of quite an important life ceremony so far as the College is concerned, the occasion being the opening of a new wing in the College, which function was performed by H.E. the Governor. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags and greenery, the most prominent feature of the decorations being the arrangement of the Union Jack and the Yellow Dragon side by side at the back of the dais at one end of the hall. There was a large gathering present to witness the ceremony, which included His Excellency the Governor, Captain Simson, Private Secretary, Capt. P. H. M. Taylor, A.D.C., Bishop Ingham, Secretary of the Church Missionary Society, the Bishop of Victoria, Mr. E. A. Irving, Director of Education, Hon. Dr. Ho Kai, Hon. Mr. Wei Yuk, Messrs. Lai Kwai Pui, S. W. Tso, Chan Siu Ki, Rev. E. F. Barnett (Warden), Rev. C. H. Hickling, Rev. F. T. Johnson, Messrs. G. Piercy, Lady May, Mr. T. F. Fung, Japanese Consul, Mr. G. H. Medhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Lerrigo, Rev. C. E. Thomson, Dr. J. M. Atkinson, and Mr. W. H. Hewitt.

His Lordship the Bishop of Victoria opened the proceedings, after the hymn "Oh God, our help in ages past" had been sung, with a short address. He said that they were gathered together that afternoon for an important function. The Council had modestly called it the new wing, but it seemed to him so large that it was larger than the building. An occasion such as that was a monument to the Colony's zeal for education. No one could help being impressed with the number of magnificent buildings to be seen. His Lordship referred to His Excellency's enthusiasm in the cause of education and the only which existed between the British and the Chinese and by a happy arrangement the Union Jack and the Yellow Dragon were that afternoon placed side by side. The new wing had been built entirely with Chinese money. The Chinese parents of the scholars trusted them and they considered that trust more precious than gold. They had been able to convince them that their trust was not mislaid and they in turn trusted them. The College bore testimony to the good work carried on by the Church Missionary Society. The College was started a few years ago by the Church Missionary Society. At that time the Society's representative was Archdeacon Bannister to whose wonderful foresight the existence of the College was due. He was pleased to welcome Bishop Ingham that afternoon. The opening of the wing was also a witness to their excellent work. He was positively amazed what an enormous amount of hard work he could put through and he had his doubts whether he was not the most hard-working man in the Colony. His Excellency was another hard-working man and if a prize were to be offered for hard work, it would surely lie between His Excellency and the Warden. They were most thankful for the opening of the wing that afternoon.

Addressing the gathering, the Warden said:—"Your Excellency, My Lords, Ladies and Gentlemen, Your presence here to-day gives to us who are interested in St. Stephen's College sincere pleasure. As Warden it is my privilege to express to Your Excellency the gratitude we feel for the constant interest manifested in our educational enterprise in this place. Twelve months have not yet passed since you laid the foundation stone of this extension to our buildings, and this afternoon, we offer a sincere welcome to Your Excellency as you come to declare the new wing open for the use of Chinese students. Your Excellency will doubtless remember the matchless which has served for our hall of meeting on several occasions. In that matchless, Sir, nearly two years ago you made a public utterance which is culminating in the Hongkong University about to be erected. Early this year you expressed the opinion that St. Stephen's College would take no mean place as a feeder to the University. The substitution of this more permanent building for the transient matchless will, we trust, help to confirm the opinion that our endeavours will be to fulfil the educational responsibilities we have assumed. This building, however, is, as was mentioned at its foundation, a monument of Chinese liberality. We prepared plans; Chinese parents and guardians subscribed the money. We offer a liberal secondary education for their sons; they provide necessary buildings for the purpose. We are more than glad, therefore, that we have on this platform to-day, the Right Reverend the Central Secretary of the Church Missionary Society, for this afternoon's function will afford additional evidence to Bishop Ingham, and to the great society he represents, that the Chinese not only appreciate what is being done for them by the Church Missionary Society but that they are quick to respond when serious attempt is made to meet their requirements. It would be as unjust to our Chinese friends as it would be unfair to the Church Missionary Society if we omitted to point out that Chinese parents do not want for their children an education divorced from moral teaching. It would not have been strange if an institution with definite religious aims had been suspected and avoided by our Chinese friends. It is because they have not only come to understand us but to trust us that we are able to meet in this hall to-day. They have realised that our one purpose within these walls is educational: that St. Stephen's College is managed not in the interests of any individual, or of any society. It stands for the training of Chinese youth upon the principle that every man possesses something more than physical and mental capacity—that his moral nature cannot be soundly developed except on the basis of religion. I repeat that our Chinese friends fully recognise this fact and they have learned by experience that while the Christian Scriptures are the text book for our moral training, co-operative measures in matters of faith and conscience find no place among us. If I have misjudged them in this matter, there are gentlemen present who will have the opportunity to set me right. But as the College Council is about to take over this new wing it seems fitting that in the presence of Your Excellency, who has manifested so keen an interest in educational matters, and in the presence of the Central Secretary of the C.M.S. as well as before the subscribers to the building fund, the principles upon which our undertaking is based should be clearly enunciated and understood. The cost of this new building is £150,000. Not quite the full amount has been subscribed, but the building committee have the matter in hand, with Mr. Lai Kwai Pui as chairman, Mr. S. W. Tso as secretary, and Mr. Chan Siu Ki as treasurer. The ground floor contains a hall 92 x 37, being under ordinary circumstances divided by movable partitions into assembly and dining halls. Offices are also attached. The first and second floors are divided into dormitories and single bedrooms, with lavatories. On the first floor is also a laboratory 34 x 18. This was made possible by the munificence of a lady in England, who just after the foundations were laid offered to erect a small hall for students' meetings as a memorial to her departed parents. This hall stands at the south end and the laboratory with tiled floors is placed above it. The roofs and floors of the building and of the verandahs are executed in reinforced cement concrete, and the floors of the large hall, laboratory, bathrooms, verandah, etc., are paved with encaustic tiles. The floors all rest on cast iron columns and the whole building has a substantial appearance. The structure was erected to the designs and under the superintendence of Messrs. Davidson, Ram and Gibbs. The basework of this opening ceremony has not left time for furnishing, except in part, but we whose days are spent here wish again to thank heartily the donors who, in helping us to carry on our work more effectively, have at the same time helped forward in no small degree the education of their sons. This hall in which we meet will be known as the Lai Kwai Pui Hall in consideration of the handsome donation of $5,000 from the gentleman bearing that name. This name together with the names of subscribers will be recorded in a permanent form. To-day they have been written temporarily and perhaps need not now be further referred to, seeing they were read in detail at the laying of the foundation stone. But one other point must be mentioned. Reference has been made to the confidence which the parents and guardians of the students have reposed in us, when they undertook to erect and to hand over to the College authorities this building without conditions. We desire above all things that this confidence should be maintained. Yet trust can be kept alive only by reciprocity. The College Council, therefore, has decided to invite five Chinese parents to sit with three Europeans on an Advisory Committee for the safeguarding and furtherance of the College. The difficulty of making selection among so many friends is great. Year by year the number of those interested in St. Stephen's has increased. But from among these gentlemen the following have been chosen: The Hon. Dr. Ho Kai, C.M.G., the Hon. Mr. Wei Yuk, C.M.G., Mr. Lai Kwai Pui, Mr. Chan Siu Ki, and Mr. S. W. Tso. The Council has the fullest confidence that such an Advisory Committee will be of the greatest benefit, and it trusts that St. Stephen's College will continue its career under the same harmonious conditions as have been enjoyed during the first nearly 7 years of its existence. What I have been able to do in the College has been done only by the fact that I have been supported by an able staff. (Applause.)

His Excellency said:—"My Lords Bishop, Ladies and Gentlemen, It is close on a year ago that I had the pleasure and privilege of laying the foundation stone of this handsome and useful extension of St. Stephen's College and from time to time I have passed by and watched the progress of the building. I congratulate you on its completion and I hope that the extended accommodation now afforded will enable you to increase your numbers largely. I recollect that the Warden told us last year that during the six years of this College's existence, the numbers had increased from 7 to 125, but it has, I hear, fallen to 115 of late. I hope that this decrease is due to purely temporary causes and I am especially glad that this extension will enable you to practically double the number of boarders. When I first came to this Colony I was amazed to find how large a number of schools there are here and how large the number of scholars at many of them. I set to work to ascertain the statistics of each, its special aims and objects, the class of education it provided, the number and nationality of its pupils and of European and Chinese staff and other particulars. There were so many, some maintained by Government, some by the China Mission Society, some by the Roman Catholic Mission and other religious bodies; some private, that I noted down the result of my inquiries in a note book, that I might familiarise myself with each one. Yesterday I took up those notes written early three years ago and I found the following:—"St. Stephen gives a high education. Desires to be affiliated to an English University so as to get English degrees, prefers students for a University course." Shortly afterwards in December 1907 I distributed the prizes and I expressed an aspiration that the Colony should found a University where Chinese boys (among others) might obtain degrees equivalent to those granted by British Universities while still remaining among their own people and in touch with their own relatives. A year later (last December) when I laid the foundation stone of the Extension I told you how Mr. Mody had come forward in response to my suggestion and had offered to erect the necessary buildings estimated at $150,000 to $160,000. I told you that I hoped to incorporate the College of Medicine in the University and that we did not consider it possible to accept Mr. Mody's generous offer unless and until we should have raised an adequate Endowment Fund and a sum for equipping the laboratory, etc. Mr. Mody allowed his offer to remain open till the end of this year to see if we could raise the necessary fund which we estimated at about one and a quarter million dollars. When speaking to you last year I said that I had been tempted into the depression regarding the University because the project would always remain associated in my mind with St. Stephen's College where the first words were spoken that led to the scheme taking practical shape. But at the time it still seemed far off and it was not, I confess, without misgivings that I anticipated the task before us of raising so enormous a sum. I come to you again on the eve of the expiration of the period assigned and, I am more glad than I can say to be able to tell you that at a meeting at Government House on 13th instant of the University Committee the following Resolution was unanimously passed:—"That the terms of Resolution No. 1 having been complied with to the satisfaction of the committee, work on the building of the University may be commenced forthwith." Resolution 2 referred to the minimum endowment considered necessary before accepting Mr. Mody's gift and to the passing of adequacy of the buildings for the purpose of a University. When I look back on that note in my pocket-book, written opposite St. Stephen's College, and recall that it was here that in December, 1907, I first expressed the hope—and that here in December, 1908, I said that a project which seemed almost hopeless was on foot and that now in December, 1909, I am able to announce to you here that building can commence forthwith,—I feel that St. Stephen's is in a special way connected with this project. I hope that in December, 1910, I may be able to announce that the buildings are nearing completion and that the funds required have been fully raised, and that in December, 1911, I may be able to congratulate St. Stephen's on having some of the first successful students who have matriculated for the University. The examination of the plans disclosed the fact that the buildings and grounds would cost much more than had been anticipated by Mr. Mody who made his offer and the revised plans are now estimated to cost $185,000. Mr. Mody has, nevertheless, generously undertaken to erect them in accordance with the approved designs. We still require funds to erect the students' quarters and anatomical laboratory and to complete the equipment fund, and I earnestly hope that those who have this project at heart—among them none has shown more zeal and enthusiasm than Dr. Ho Kai—will not cease their efforts to emulate the generosity of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire and the Chinese communities, both in and beyond this Colony, and the leading firms who have generously come forward with subscriptions. I hope, too, to see preparations made for hosts by the Society which conducts St. Stephen's and others, and, above all, I hope that the staff and the scholars of this College will make up their minds that special study and preparation is needed to prepare for matriculation, and will be determined that the scholars of St. Stephen's shall be well represented among the undergraduates of the University. My Lord, for the reasons I have given, I make an apology for having devoted my speech to this subject. The parents of your scholars are the Chinese gentry upon whom above all others, a local University will confer benefits. I see among your Chinese patrons, Dr. Ho Kai, Mr. Chan Siu Ki and Mr. Tso, those who have been most prominent in promoting the University. I appeal to them to make this thing a success, not merely a financial success, though that for the moment is the most important object, but a success in the number of students properly qualified by a thorough knowledge of English to reap the benefits of a University education. With sufficient funds to provide an adequate and high class staff, and sufficient qualified students I have no fear that the management of the University will succeed in turning out graduates not only equal in scholastic attainments to those of Western seats of learning, but men of high moral character whose standard of life in whatever posts they may fill will be a credit to the University as well in the uprightness of their characters as in the degree of their learning. The University once built and endowed will be a self-supporting institution, and I hope that St. Stephen's, which is also a self-supporting institution for the sons of gentry, may develop into a large and important feeder on the lines of our public schools at home. Once more I congratulate you on this extension which gives proofs of its vitality—for vitality means growth and extension—and I hope that it will continue to grow until this College becomes one of the leading institutions of this Colony. (Applause.) I have now the pleasure of declaring this new wing open and wish it every success. (Loud applause.)

Bishop Lander asked the Secretary of the Church Missionary Society to move a vote of thanks to His Excellency the Governor.

Bishop Ingham in rising said that he gladly obeyed the order. His Excellency was the Governor of Hongkong at this critical moment and it seemed that His Excellency was made for critical moments. The speaker referred to His Excellency when he was Governor of Uganda and to the good services he had rendered to Archdeacon Millar and other missionaries. When he came to that room that afternoon, he was told that His Excellency had dreamed a dream of a Hongkong University, which was now an accomplished fact. He was literally amazed at this bit of the Empire at the gates of China. His Lordship in conclusion said he had indeed great pleasure in moving the vote of thanks.

Dr. Ho Kai, in seconding the motion, said that they were very much indebted to His Excellency for his interest in the College. His Excellency had come to open the wing that day and he had given them his best wishes. After thanking His Excellency on behalf of the Chinese parents of the scholars, Dr. Ho Kai said that they were indebted to His Excellency for his dreams because it was owing to his dreams that the Hongkong University was now a fact accomplished. He had great pleasure in seconding the vote of thanks. Three cheers and a "tiger" were then led by one of the Chinese scholars and heartily given by the gathering.

Tea was served, when an opportunity was afforded to those interested of inspecting the upper buildings of the new wing. The gathering then dispersed.

VICE-ADMIRAL IVON INGENHOHL.

OFFICIAL LANDING.

At 10.45 this morning a guard of honour composed of one company of the "Buffa" was drawn up at Blakes Pier to receive the German Admiral on landing. As he stepped on the pier a salute was fired from the shore battery at Kowloon. The Admiral was received at the pier by Capt. P. H. M. Taylor, A.D.C., to the Governor, and the German Consul, Dr. Voretzsch. After inspecting the guard, the Admiral and party proceeded in chairs to Government House.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

THE DES VOEUX ROAD ARMED ROBBERY.

Before Mr. Justice Gompertz, Police Judge, at the Criminal Sessions this morning, Chan Si, Li To, Kwok Lim, Chiu Lin, and Chan Tai were indicted on charges of having committed an armed robbery on the 22nd October last, whereby prisoners assaulted three Chinese and removed $1,000 in money, twenty-three pieces of clothing, a bundle of keys, a whistle and $1/3 in money, Mr. F. A. Hazeland, Acting Attorney-General, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared for the Crown. The prisoners were undefended. The first and third prisoners pleaded guilty whilst the rest of the prisoners entered a plea of not guilty.

The following were the jury sworn in: Messrs. J. F. Miller (foreman), H. L. W. Korten, J. Elliott, J. Forbes, J. A. Young, O. el Arculli and K. G. G. Stockhausen.

The Attorney-General stated that the prisoners were charged with committing an armed robbery at about 7.30 p.m., at the Ching Kat Ching Kee mahshop at No. 29, Des Voeux Road on the 22nd October last. Together with a number of other persons, they gagged and tied the inmates and removed money to the value of $1,000 and a large quantity of clothing. On the following day, a police-sergeant went to a certain house in Square Street, when he saw one of the prisoners and a woman in a back cubicle and saw the prisoner hand to the woman pieces of clothing. Some articles of clothing were found under the bed and there were also other articles in the house. He proposed to put in evidence a statement made by one of the prisoners, who admitted that he had gone to the house "to rob." The Attorney-General then proceeded to read certain statements made by some of the prisoners, which would show that they were concerned in the affair.

Evidence having been called, the jury returned a unanimous verdict of guilty. Sentence of five years' hard labour was passed on each of the prisoners while a sixth was sentenced to ten years for being accessory before the fact.

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

OPENING OF HONGKONG BRANCH.

The Hongkong branch of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, Ltd., was opened yesterday, and during the morning, Mr. E. E. Deacon, who has been appointed to take charge of the branch and Mr. H. E. R. Hunter, the Manager, received many visitors, reports the N. C. D. News of 17th inst. Amongst those who attended were Sir Pelham Warren, K. C. M. G., members of the Municipal Council, and many business men. After the visitors had partaken of light refreshments a tour of inspection took place. The Banking Hall, which has been admirably fitted up, was greatly admired, and was very cosy indeed yesterday, owing to the warmth that was given out by radiators of the low pressure, hot-water system. One of the strong rooms had his massive steel door standing invitingly open, but inside was nothing more valuable than a collection of new books that had never been opened, and a few boxes of excellent cigars and cigarettes, which the thoughtful caterer had placed there for the use of the guests. The members of the staff were in attendance for the transaction of any business that might have been offering, but in the morning during the reception hours, their labours were almost entirely confined to conducting visitors on tours of inspection. A full description of the building appeared in our column of July 2, last. The catering yesterday was in the capable hands of Messrs. W. L. Verrard & Co.

A CHINAMAN was this morning fined $500 for selling opium at Shan-ki-wan Bay without a licence. He was also fined $10 and $5, respectively, on two charges of having a quantity of prepared and dross opium in his possession.

At the Public Works Department this afternoon, a plot of Crown land, at the corner of Shiu-hing Street and Hollywood Road, measuring about 722 square feet, was sold for $1,268; $10 above the upset price. Mr. Liu Sol was the purchaser.

CANTON DAY BY DAY.

THE SALT MONOPOLY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Canton, 18th December.

In reply to the petition submitted by Chao Po Shum and others, merchants, applying for the Salt Monopoly of the Kwangtung province, at an annual rental of $2,000,000, H. K. Viceroy Yuan Shu Hsun has decided to accept the offer and to grant the applicants the concession. The Viceroy appears to be greatly pleased that the Salt Monopoly has been let for such an enormous sum of money yearly with which he will be able to pursue his plans for effectually suppressing the evil practice of gambling in Kwangtung. In the agreement drawn up by the petitioners, there are certain articles which require modification; when this is done, the agreement will be signed by both parties.

It is reported that if the salt monopoly is granted to the new farmers the present monopolists will suffer a loss of not less than three million dollars.

PROVINCIAL TREASURER.

The newly appointed Kwangtung Provincial Treasurer, Chao Kwal Liu, is expected to arrive here to-morrow and it is reported that he will take over the seal of office on the following day. A delegation of officials has been sent to Hongkong on board a gunboat to meet the coming official.

FIRE.

At 1.40 p.m. yesterday a fire broke out in No. 27, Yueh Shing Street in the Western suburb. Though the outbreak took place in the day time and the different fire brigades arrived at the scene in time to render assistance, the fire kept burning fiercely for some time and destroyed eighteen buildings in all.

DENUNCIATIONS.

It is learnt that the Viceroy has submitted a memorial to the Throne, in which H. E. Yuan denounced some twenty of his subordinates on various counts.

SCHOOL SPORTS.

At the school sports to be held on the 27th and 28th inst. at the East Parade Ground, the band of the Canton Sacred Heart College, has kindly consented to play selections of music during the proceedings.

THE CHINESE NAVAL COMMISSION IN ENGLAND.

VISIT TO H.M. KING EDWARD.

Prince Tsai Hsun, accompanied by the members of the Imperial Chinese Naval Commission, went by train from Paddington on the 23rd ult. to Windsor on a visit to the King. The Mayor was on the platform to receive the distinguished visitors, who were conveyed to the Castle in Royal carriages. After the reception by His Majesty the Commissioners were entertained at luncheon. At the end of the meal rice was served in the King's royal blue tureen, and gold chopsticks were placed for the use of the visitors. Another compliment paid to them was the serving of Chinese tea after the luncheon.

The Court Circular gives the following account of the reception:—

Windsor Castle, Nov. 20.

His Majesty the King to-day received in audience His Imperial Highness Prince Tsai Hsun, accompanied by His Excellency Admiral Sah Chen-ping, His Excellency Sir Chen-tung Liang Cheng, Captain Tiao Yu-ying (Aide de Camp to His Imperial Highness Prince Tsai Hsun), Mr. Chao Hsiao-hong, Mr. Fung Shu, and Mr. Ko Xia Ki, who have come over on a special Naval Commission from His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of China. His Excellency the Chinese Minister (Lord Li Ching-fong) was present, and afterwards presented to the King an autograph letter from the Emperor of China. Sir John McLeavy Brown (English Counsellor of the Chinese Legation), Rear-Admiral W. Grant, and Mr. Diebly Alston, of the Foreign Office (especially attached to His Imperial Highness Prince Tsai Hsun of China), were in attendance.

In attendance upon His Majesty were the Viscount Morley of Blackburn (Secretary of State for India, Minister in attendance), the Right Hon. Sir Charles Hardinge (Permanent Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs), the Lord Suffield, Mr. Montague Elliot, Colonel Sir Arthur Davidson and the Hon. John Ward Lord, Groom, and Equerries in Waiting, Colonel Sir Douglas Dawson (Comptroller in the Lord Chamberlain's Department), the Master of the Household, and the Deputy Master of the Household.

His Imperial Highness Prince Tsai Hsun, His Excellency Admiral Sah Chen-ping, and His Excellency Sir Chen-tung Liang Cheng were presented to the Queen.

Their Majesties gave a luncheon party, at which the following were present:—Her Majesty the Queen of Norway, His Imperial Highness Prince Tsai Hsun, H. R. H. the Princess Royal and the Duke of Fife, H. R. H. the Princess Victoria, their Highnesses the Princesses Alexandra and Maud, His Excellency Admiral Sah Chen-ping, His Excellency Sir Chen-tung Liang Cheng, His Excellency the Chinese Minister, the Viscount Morley of Blackburn, the Right Hon. Sir Charles Hardinge, Rear-Admiral W. Grant, and the Lord Suffield.

VISIT TO THE ADMIRALTY AND GREENWICH.

The members of the Chinese Naval Mission drove to the Admiralty on the morning of 22nd ult. where they were received by Mr. McKenna. The visit was characterised by much ceremony. An admiral conducted the guests round the establishment, where all the objects of interest were explained to them, and, in addition, the wireless telegraphy installation to which they paid the greatest attention. In the afternoon they motored to Greenwich, where they visited the Royal Naval School. They were received by Admiral Sir John Darnford, Captain E. C. Cooper-Key (superintendent of the school), Paymaster J. F. Evans (headmaster), Fleet-Surgeon Joseph Stenhouse, and Chief Officer Joseph Reed. The Chinese ensign was flown from the mainmast of the dummy ship Fams, which stands on the parade ground, and was fully dressed for the occasion, while the boys' band accorded the visitors musical honours. The full strength of the school, 1,050, was then paraded, and the boys marched past in quarter column, led by the band. The visitors next inspected the gymnasium, where the lads performed various exercises.

After leaving the school the party crossed the road, entered the Royal Naval College, where they inspected the laboratories and instruction rooms, and took tea with the Governor, Admiral Darnford.

Admiral Sah Chen-ping was much pleased with all he saw, and referred to the fact that he had been at Greenwich Royal Naval College thirty-one years ago. In 1878 a number of Chinese Naval officers came to England for a course of training, and were sent to Greenwich. Their ability, at least as far as the theoretical part of their profession was concerned, was the subject of general comment. They wore their native dress, and were a distinct feature in the social life of the naval colony.

On Sunday some of the Commission visited the Zoological Gardens.

To a reporter Admiral Sah Chen-ping said:—"I ought perhaps to remove a misapprehension. The Commission is not here for the purpose of placing orders for war vessels with European contractors. Our mission is simply one of inquiry. We shall visit all the principal dockyards, arsenals, and shipbuilding establishments both in England and on the Continent. We shall stay in England for three or four weeks; then we go to France, Italy, Austria, Germany and Russia. Our mission will last altogether six or seven weeks. We finish up at St. Petersburg about the middle of January, and shall travel thence overland by the Siberian Railway back to China. The route was made out from geographical considerations, that is to say, we want to avoid travelling twice over the same ground."

LUNCH AT THE FOREIGN OFFICE.

Prince Tsai Hsun, Admiral Sah Chen Ping, Sir Chen-tung Liang Cheng, with the Chinese Minister and Sir John McLeavy Brown, were entertained at the Foreign Office on 23rd ult. The luncheon took place in the small reception room, 22 sitting down. The Prime Minister and the Earl of Crewe attended, and amongst others present were Admiral Sir A. Moore, General Sir W. Nicholson, Vice-Admiral Sir A. Winsloe, Rear-Admiral Sir J. Jellicoe, Rear-Admiral William Grant, Sir C. Inigo Thomas (Permanent Under-Secretary at the Admiralty), Sir Charles Hardinge (Permanent Under-Secretary at the Foreign Office), Mr. McKinnon Wood, Sir F. Campbell, Mr. Tyrrell, and Mr. Diebly Alston. After the luncheon the loyal toasts were given briefly, but this was the only formal speech-making.
